

Lowcountry Presbytery Standing Rules

Adopted: January 23, 2015, at the First Stated Meeting of the Lowcountry Presbytery
Amended July 28, 2018. Amended November 5, 2020. Amended April 25, 2023.
Amended July 22, 2023.

1 MISSION STATEMENT

1.1 The name of the Presbytery shall be Lowcountry Presbytery, Inc.

1.2 The mission of the Presbytery is as follows:

“We exist as a regional church to extend God’s Kingdom in the Lowcountry by strengthening existing churches, planting new churches and cooperatively reaching out with the gospel, developing new leaders and caring for our shepherds.”

1.3 Values and Distinctives:

1.3.1 The distinctiveness of the PCA and therefore Lowcountry Presbytery lies in our stress on both reformation and revival. Without an emphasis on revival, “reformation” may become either a mimicking of political ideologies or sterile doctrinarism. Without an emphasis on reformation, “revival” may become a shallow pietism or mysticism. Only reformation and revival together can accomplish the Great Commission of our Lord.

1.3.2 As a presbytery we are the regional church of our individual churches joined together for the advancement of God’s kingdom. It is this advancement of God’s kingdom and Gospel message that unites us though we may differ in practice and style.

1.3.3 As a presbytery we are committed to the Scriptures and the historic Westminster Standards based firmly on a biblical theology that answers the questions and issues of each culture and people to which we minister.

1.3.4 As a presbytery we seek to be a band of brothers united together in our labors, sufferings and joys of ministry by providing a safe haven where we can laugh, cry, encourage and rebuke one-another for the advancement of God’s kingdom. Likewise, we also want to seek ways to be a haven for the wives of our elders and candidates.

1.3.5 As a presbytery we will seek not to allow the good and necessary administrative functions of the Presbytery to overshadow the connectional and encouragement aspects of Presbytery. To this end we will endeavor to encourage and empower our various committees to conduct the business of Presbytery electronically and in committee allowing for more time for Presbytery meetings to be about prayer, fellowship, encouragement and discussion of ways to expand God’s kingdom for His glory.

2 GOVERNMENT

2.1 The foundational principles and the basic organizational structure of Presbytery shall conform to the Scriptures and the BOOK OF CHURCH ORDER of the Presbyterian Church in America. In matters not otherwise covered, ROBERT’S RULES OF ORDER shall prevail.

Guests are welcome to be seated and to listen to the proceedings; however, they do not have the privilege of the floor. A guest seeking the privilege of the floor must request permission, and the moderator is empowered to grant or deny it. If any member of the court (a Teaching Elder or delegated Ruling Elder, per BCO 13-1) should object to the decision of the moderator, the question will be voted upon by Presbytery for a majority vote.
- 5.3.3 In addition to the members of the court (Teaching Elders and delegated Ruling Elders), all Ruling Elders installed at churches within the bounds of the presbytery have the privilege of the floor, but only those who are members of the court (per BCO 13-1) may vote or make a motion.
- 5.3.4 Honorably retired Teaching Elders maintain full membership in the court (BCO 23-2). A Ruling Elder emeritus (BCO 24-10) from a church within the bounds of the presbytery continues to have the privilege of the floor, but he may not vote or make a motion.
- 5.3.5 A motion to enter Executive Session is a question of privilege. Only members and delegates of Presbytery have the right to remain in Executive Session, and all guests must be excused. The Moderator shall determine whether any guests are necessary for the proceedings, along with how much of the proceedings they may remain and when they may address Presbytery. If an objection to the Moderator’s determination is raised, Presbytery will vote on the matter.

Before considering the business at hand in executive session, the Moderator shall ensure the doors to the meeting room are shut and the sound system is only operating in the meeting room. The Moderator shall read section 5.3.5 of the Standing Rules and solemnly remind everyone present of the requirement of secrecy. Any violation of secrecy by a member of the court may result in discipline. Any guests allowed to remain must also be exhorted that they are honor-bound not to reveal the proceedings of Executive Session. The minutes from the proceedings of an Executive Session must be read and acted upon only in Executive Session.

Before exiting Executive Session, Presbytery must determine what information may be communicated to other parties. If the business conducted will carry over into another meeting, the Moderator shall appoint someone to provide a summary of the matter at the next meeting once Presbytery enters Executive Session again. Presbytery shall decide what information may be communicated publicly. Presbytery shall also determine whether any privileged information needs to be communicated to its committee members not present in the execution of their work. Additionally, Presbytery shall consider whether any special communication is needed in the resolution of the business to other parties (individuals, churches, or other organizations).

5.4 ABSENCES:

5.4.1 All Presbytery Commissioners should attend every meeting unless providentially hindered.
